Address of the Executive Democratic Central Committee to the People of North Carolina. ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CON-SERVATIVE CENTRAL EX. COM.,

RALEIGH, June 1st, 1875. To the People of North Carolina: The General Assembly at its recent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next, for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient. NECESSITY FOR CHANGE. The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Constitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is here that some of our prominent men at one time opposed the call for a Convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposition to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstruct by the violent and ill-informed men county, and at 8 P. > METHODS OF CHANGE. Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactments is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encountered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious apprehensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adopted; again, legislators, when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encumbered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consideration, without meeting such criticisms as may imperil their labors. The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of members as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in six months. As to the expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugerated. The restrictions imposed by the Legislature fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanic's Lein, Rights of Married Woman, and Perconsl Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are chiefly enjoyed by the friends of constitutional reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly pate unserupulous agitation. They Gov. Brogden. are not the property of a mere party, but had their origin in the necessities the statutes of various States previous to the war.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES,

It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen optics of some persons defy all law .-The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satisfy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate before "he shall be permitted to sit, to be entitled to a seat in said strictions" (see act 1874-75.)
